

Working out →

MONEY IN RELATIONSHIP

Money is good. It gives us choices. But for many couples, the friction caused by money, and how it is spent, is a major cause of conflict.

This module is designed for you to work on together with your boyfriend. Some of the material is quite challenging. Before you start, you need to agree together to work through the programme in a spirit of respect, without judgement or accusation.

By the end of this four-week course, you will:

- be able to talk openly with each other about money
- have reduced any conflicts caused by money
- have a healthy attitude to money and its uses